The Best Of Times

THE BEST OF TIMES . . . This is the opening line of Charles Dickens' A Tale of Two Cities, written over one hundred years ago. It is also the title of a song made popular by "Air Supply" in the '80's. The school year 1984-85 has provided us with our own best of times, both locally and nationally. In 1984, the Indian River School District electorate endorsed a referendum to fund the construction of a badly-needed library and music wing at Indian River High School, to be completed for use in September 1985. Local education's best of times has been evident in new and tougher minimum competency requirements, more math and science courses, new English, math and science curricula, and higher academic standards for those participating in athletics.

Environmentally speaking, Sussex County is monitoring the treatment of water and sewage, and local school districts are being held accountable for imporving asbestos-related conditions in the school buildings. We have been studying ways of preserving our wetlands and preventing further erosion of our shorelines.

A Time To Seek . . .

Even Mother Nature has cooperated in providing us with abundant rainfall and bumper crops, and local chicken growers have been successful in stemming the invasion of Avian influenza.

Our concern with our environment has extended to our concern with ourselves. Although we Sussex Countians still LOVE our cars, we have also become more aware of the need for healthy bodies. More students than ever have made use of the weight room, and you need only peek into an empty classroom after school to catch a glimpse of our lady teachers stretching and jogging to the voice of Jane Fonda. Salad bars in the cafeteria have become standard fare, and some students have even been known to select fresh fruit over sugar cookies!

These have certainly been among the best of times for minority groups, as women have hailed Geraldine Ferraro's candidacy for Vice-President as long overdue. Locally, our own Ms. Margaret Peck, former Assistant Principal and highly-respected in the community, broke another barrier in assuming the position of Athletic Director for a neighboring school district, the first such woman to hold that position in the state of Delaware. At the Democratic National Convention, the Rev. Jesse Jackson established himself as a power-broker and influential representative of not only Blacks but also other minority groups.

Our social conscience has certainly been heightened in these best of times. Students and adults have been largely supportive of state and national efforts to crack down on drunk driving and highway fatalities. Drug abuse seems to be on the wane as public awareness of the danger increases. And issues of child abuse, abortion and prayers in the schools are hotly debated in the classroom and in the media.

Nationally and locally, patriotism has never been higher. Ronald Reagan's presidency has succeeded in causing Americans to feel good about themselves. A strong economic recovery has opened up new jobs and military enlistment is at an all-time high. Approximately ten members of the Class of 1984 are now serving in some branch of the armed forces. The successful invasion of Grenada by the U.S. has, for many Americans, given back a sense of pride in their country's ability to take the initiative in world affairs. Television series like Call to Glory have capitalized on the new sense of patriotism already generated by the media in its Summer Olympics coverage. Names like Mary Lou Retton, Carl Lewis, Greg Louganis and Mary Decker have become household words. Even Rock-'n'Roller Bruce Springsteen has gotten into the act with his "Born in the U.S.A."

The best of times for many IR students still centers around the world of fashion and entertainment. Setting gel, crop pants, Jams and Wellies continue to make fashion news. When not waiting tables at Warren's or The Holiday House, Gremlins and Ghostbusters have provided entertainment for many. And for sheer physical energy, what could be more strenuous than break-dancing? Whether we spend our leisure on our surfboards, at our computers, in our cars, or travelling to Europe over Spring break, our choice of opportunities has never been greater. Surely, the school year 1984-85 has been among the best of times.

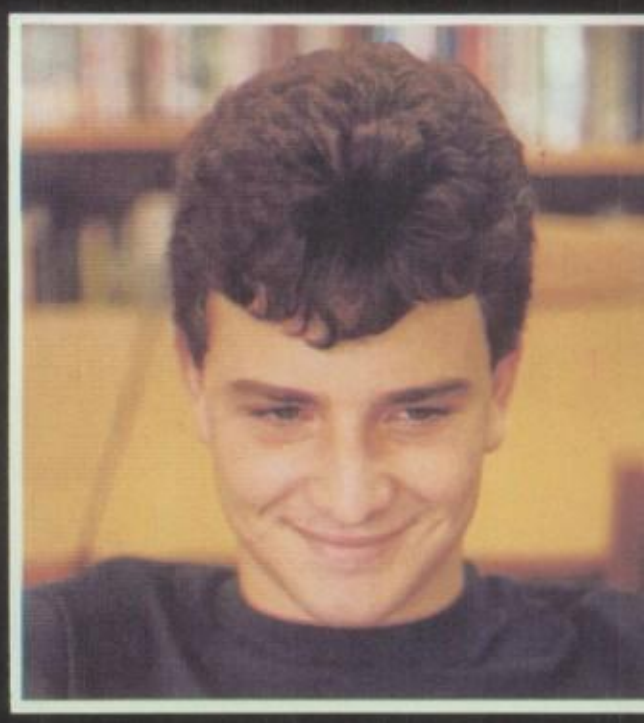
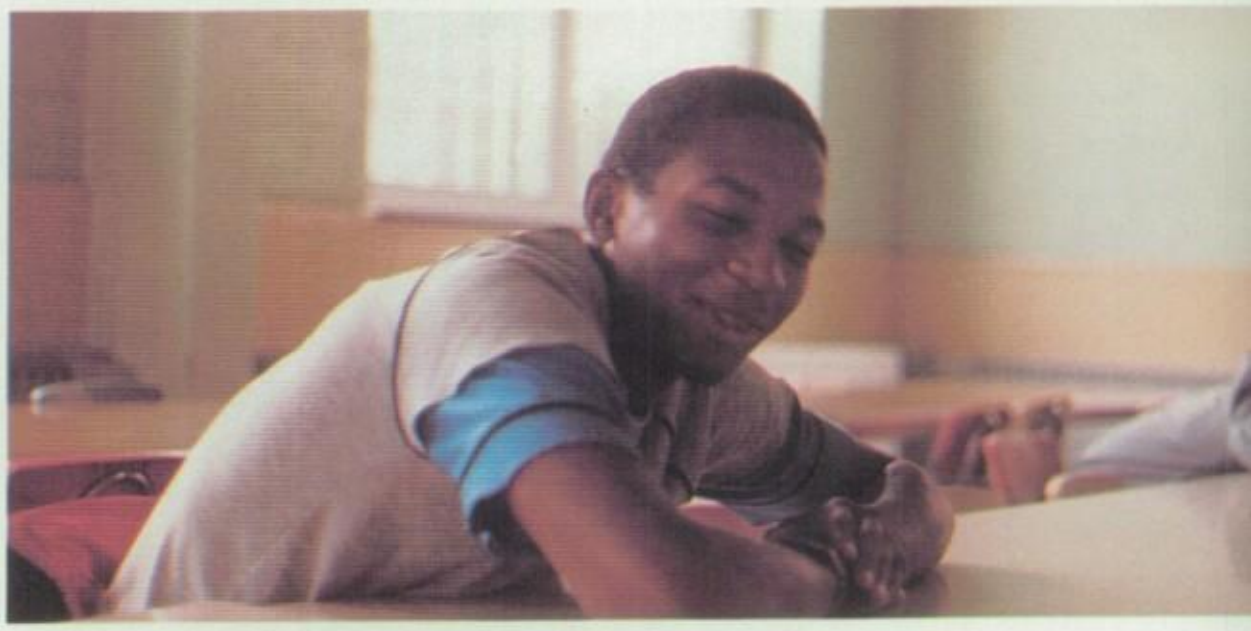
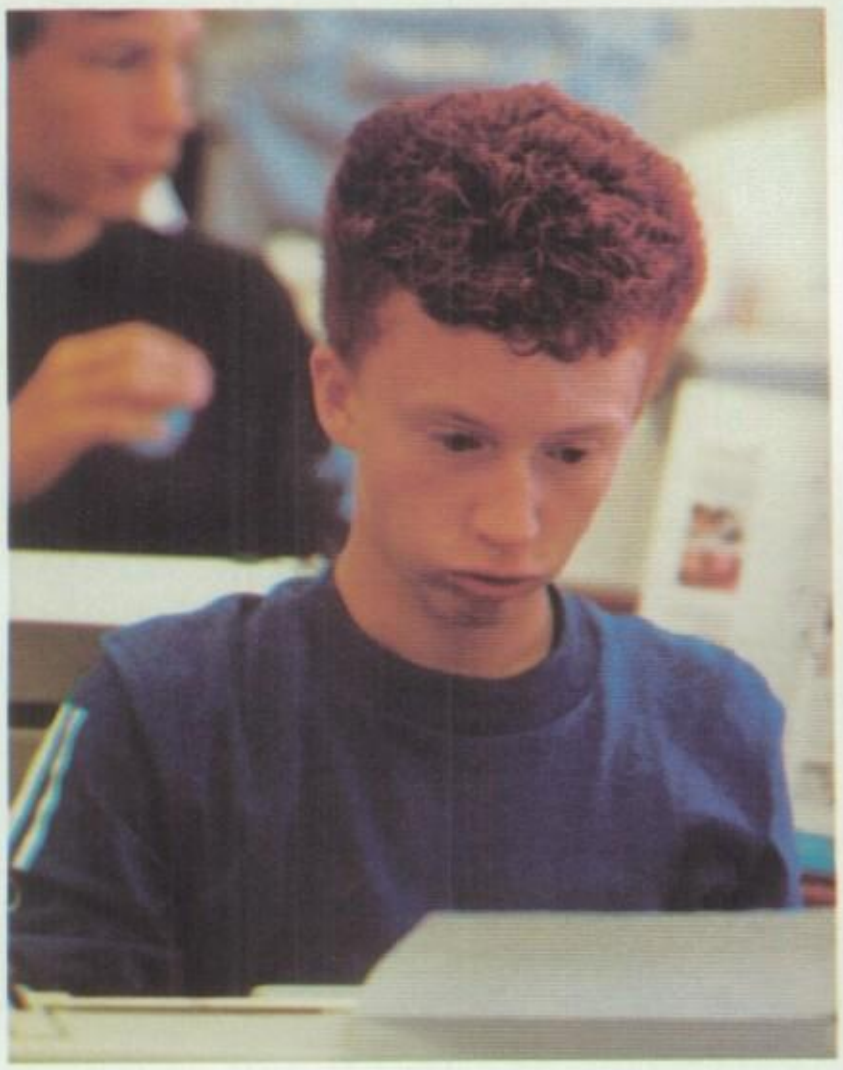
Student Life

Student Life

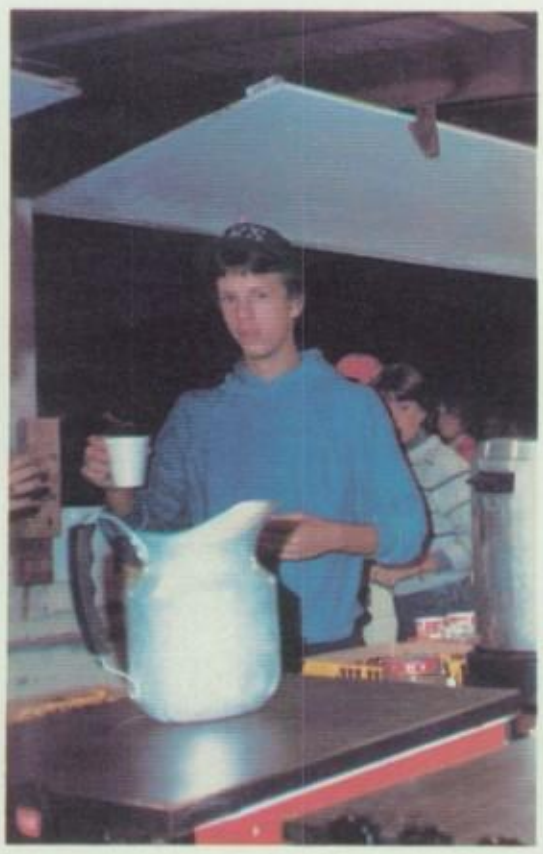
Student life centers for the most part around our daily routine as students at Indian River. Not all of our days are filled with earth-shaking events but, nevertheless, they seem so filled with activity and pass so quickly. How we choose to spend our time now is probably a good indication of the direction our lives will take in the future. For example, will Tommy Timmons always turn first to the comics? Will Lance Breasure always be so relaxed in the face of an eight hour homework assignment? Will Jeff Snead's desk always be his favorite reclining spot? Will Patrick Sullivan be able to sustain such intense concentration? And what about Arline Moxey, Ella Turnage, and Gloria Harris? Will they ever finish their "creations"? Although we don't know what the future holds, we know we must be prepared to meet it.

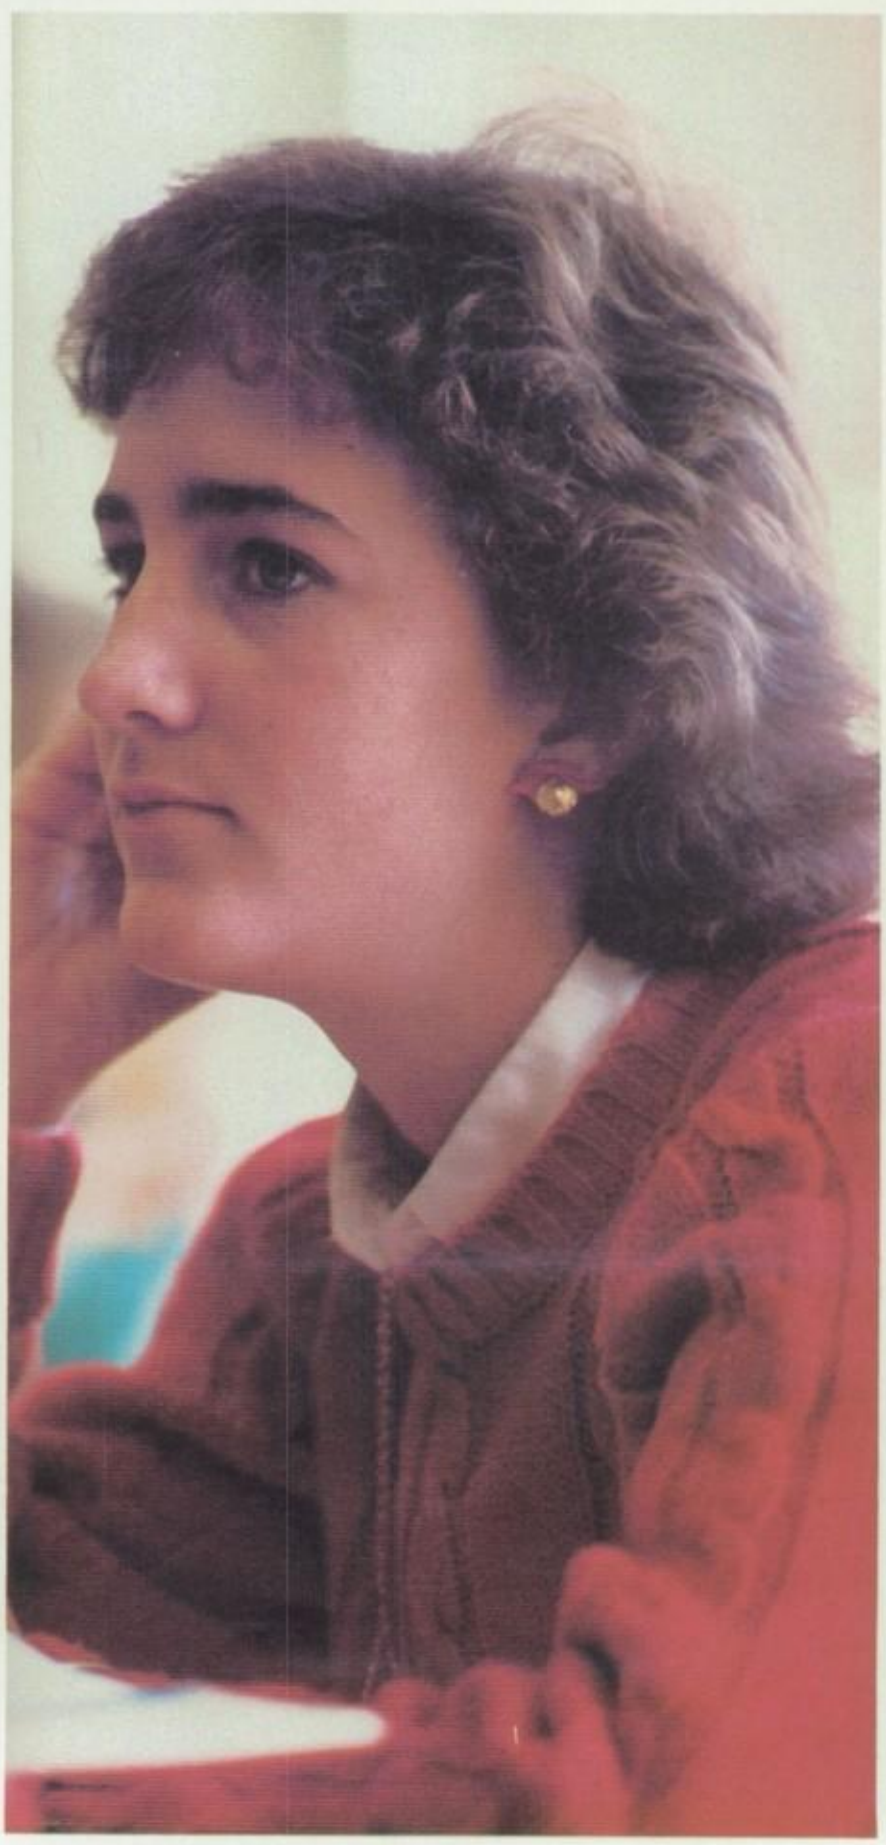






What would a day be like without our gourmet assortment of salads and platters? After a satisfying lunch, Lynn Bunting is able to concentrate intently on that important lecture. And what would a Friday evening be without Steve Persolio in the seniors favorite money-raising hangout, the concession stand? Speaking of seniors, "Is there life after graduation?" Lisa Murray seems to think so, while Lori Bennett isn't so sure.





Student Life

For students, The Best of Times usually involves eating or talking. To John Campbell, munching out on a fudge pop is the ultimate high! Marsha Banks, on the other hand, seems satisfied to flash those "tooth-paste ad" pearlies! Danny Daly seems about to make a speech, with Connie Stevenson urging him on. And we don't need much imagination to "hear" the grunts and groans as the team goes through its paces! The biggest noise of all, however, comes from the Junior boys on the football team as they add to the spirit of the pep rally.

Vo-Tech: Training For

The Vo-Tech center in Georgetown provides an in-school setting in which many of our students receive training in one of the vocational or technical fields. Among the many course offerings available to students are masonry, horticulture, data processing, cosmetology, plumbing, electronics, health care, and auto body repair. A completed course at Vo-Tech provides students with practical skills that will assure them entry into the job market.

The term, "diversified occupations," has two interpretations. The firs concept is that of an educational approach as opposed to a "program," although it is often referred to as a program. As suggested by the title, "Co op" provides a method of helping students with diverse occupationa interests acquire knowledge and skills in their areas of interest. It is a approach which helps students, with the cooperation of the business an industrial community, prepare for entry-level employment. The course i meant to serve, primarily, those students who have specific occupationa interests and whose school facilities do not provide for such interests an related instruction.

The second concept of "diversified occupations" applies to schools with a number of occupational-vocational programs but whose teachers have full-time instructional assignments and lack sufficient time for placement, visitation, and follow-up of students in the program. The advantages to be derived from the work-study program are many: the program assists students in developing positive work attitudes and habits; it aids in developing job knowledge and skills; it helps a student to become self-supporting; and it encourages students who might otherwise drop out of school to complete their educations while preparing for the world of work. The program at Indian River is administered by Mr. Harrison Short.

Math League Advanced Computer Science

Math League is a local, regional and state mathematics competition in which a school can enter one or more five-person teams in competition each month. The State is divided into regions, and schools within each region compete with one another. The top schools then compete in competition leading to a state championship. Each competition consists of five individual questions given to team members, who are allowed a specified amount of time in which to calculate the answers. Teams are ranked according to the number of points successfully scored by individual members, with a "team question" used as a tie-breaker. At the conclusion of the meet, the results are sent to the University of Delaware where they are tabulated and reported to each competing coach in the state.

The Advanced Computer Science class has been busy this year writing programs for our school cafeteria, the FFA, and many other schools and community organizations.

"Science Olympiad is a meeting of students throughout Delaware where students compete in science-oriented contests. The medal I won was in a contest where a group of students were to play a song by blowing across bottles filled with different levels of water ("Bottle Music Contest"). This contest, as well as numerous others, gave science students an opportunity to refine and expand upon their interests in science."

Boys' State And Girls' State

Boys' State: David Bunting, Paul Huovinen, Dean Mitchell.

Girls' State: Stacey Collins, Audra Cordrey, Mary Ellen Christian, Sonja Frey.

"At Boys' State, we learned about the U.S. Government. Delegates were assigned to a political party, and all of the members formed a party platform. We voted for high positions in the State (Governor Lt. Governor, etc . . .). Then we went to the Legislative Hall and proposed bills to the floor. On the floor we debated the good and the bad points of those bills. The bills, if passed by majority vote, were passed to the other house (Senate or House of Representatives), and the same procedure was followed. Then we went back to the Dorm and had a shaving cream fight."

— Paul Huovinen

"Girls' State was a rewarding learning experience. I met many girls my own age from the entire state and made many, many friends. I learned about government and what government officials do or don't do. Girls' State gave me a more knowledgeable outlook on political life and made me realize that I must be a part of the government to get things done. I learned that if I want something done, I need to become involved. The experience was great!"

— Sonja Frey

"During our stay at Governor's School, Bake and I spent a week at the University of Delaware attending classes which focused on the Challenge of Leadership. We had discussions on issues such as nuclear war and genetic engineering, as well as heated debates on bioethical decisions. Our week at Governor's School was not "all work and no play," however. We enjoyed various social activities, like afternoon swimming and evening dances, and we made many friends during our short stay. It was certainly a memorable experience for both of us."

Awards

The Voice of Democracy Contest, sponsored by the V.F.W, had as its speech topic, "My Pledge to America." Our winner, Beth Reister, won the local and state award. Her prize included $500.00 and a week in Washington, D.C.

Each year the Daughters of the American Revolution ask the Indian River faculty to select a student for the Good Citizen Award. Our facutly chose Audra Cordery, who also came in second in the state competition.

The Senate Youth Program brings two students from each state to Washington, D.C. to interact with government officials. IR's representative Sonja Frey.

The Hugh O'Brian Leadership Award selects one student from each school across the nation to attend a state leadership seminar. Our school nominee was Karen Bunting.

The Indian River Education Association sponsored a poster and essay contest to promote National Education. All three district winners came from IR: 1st place, Michelle Simone; 2nd place, John Angle; 3rd place, Beth Reister.

Election And Returns Day

The 1984 elections were a subject of interest among IR students who voted, campaigned and otherwise followed the drama of the Reagan landslide. Interest peaked early when, on October 31st, the Social Studies Department sponsored a "mock election" in which students were given an opportunity to become exposed to the political process. Using the voting booth was challenging, in itself, and over one-third of the student body registered and voted. Students voters overwhelmingly endorsed Republican candidates, including, Burris, DuPont and Robinson, who were defeated by their Democratic opponents state-wide. Candidate for Governor, Mike Castle, easily clobbered his opponent, William T. Quillen. Castle has spoken at IR within the past year in advocating support of the public interest group, "Students Against Drunk Driving." In a more closely contested contest, S.B. Woo narrowly edged out Sussex Countian Battle Robinson in the race for Lieutenant Governor. Despite a spirited, sometimes heated, campaign, after the results were in, winners and losers alike gathered in Georgetown for the traditional Returns Day celebration. The celebration brings together friend and foe after the elections to forget any remaining bitterness and to unite in working toward the future. The unique celebration began out of necessity to inform voters far and near of election results across the County. It was a time when results were still carried to the County seat at Georgetown on horseback. Today winners and losers celebrate together, even sharing carriage rides during the parade. This year three steers were roasted to provide free sandwiches to those who attended the event, and activities including craft and food booths helped to make the event a well-attended one. IR's marching band braved the first arctic temperatures of the season to provide first-class entertainment for the thousands of parade watchers.

Meet The Experts

Each December the Guidance Department offers a "Meet the Experts" day. This event is one in which seniors from past years return to IR to tell about the colleges they are attending. These presentations give the present seniors a chance to learn about the difficulty of the courses, the atmosphere of college life, and the importance of establishing a good record while in high school. This activity is greatly appreciated by the seniors, for it makes that "big decision" a little bit easier to make.

The theme of the 1984 prom, "Islands in the Stream," portrayed a paradise. The background consisted of palm trees, oceanic scenes, and seagulls. The Grand March allowed participants to express their originality in dress and sophistication. The young ladies wore long, formal gowns, and the gentlemen wore tuxedos. Most of the students were brought to the prom in elite automobiles. The evening was definitely one to remember and topped everyone's list of "The Best of Times."

The 1984 Prom was certainly one to remember. What better way to capture those memories than posing near the lighthouse, as did Joell Sanders and escort Phil Hissom. Members of the Class of 1984 turned out in record numbers for this, their last prom as IR students. Even former graduates such as Rod West enjoyed returning for another prom.

Homecoming 1984-85

A November 2nd date insured brisk Homecoming weather as, with great anticipation, the Homecoming crowd awaited the announcement of the 1984-85 Homecoming Queen, Lisa Murray. Included in the Court were senior attendants Tracy Handy, escorted by Albert Hagans; Dawn Willey, escorted by Danny Daly; and Queen Lisa Murry's escort, Steve Persolio. Junior attendant, Darlene Mumford, was escorted by Tim Hagans, and Sophomore attendant, Tammy Mitchell, was escorted by Tony Handy. The Class of '87's winning float entry was entitled, "Bulldog Busters." The other two floats entered by the competition were "Burn the Bulldogs," submitted by the Class of '86 and "Hush the Puppies," belonging to the Class of '85. The football team came through with a satisfying 30-14 victory over Laurel, to cap weeks of preparation and anticipation.

Newspaper

The War Cry staff's purpose is to inform the student body of school happenings and to provide enjoyment for its readers. The staff learns about the art of journalistic writing, advertising, layouts, and design. War Cry is a self-supporting organization in which students spend many hours outside of the classroom. The newspaper comes out six times a year and the paper is done totally by the staff. The staff is assisted in layout and advised by the Delmarva News.

The Speech and Drama class has been revised this year after a lapse of many years. Students in Speech and Drama do speeches to persuade, to sell, and to entertain. The highlight of the year was a formal debate on a controversial topic. In Drama the students learned how to move on stage and deliver lines. Participants were involved in several productions, one in January and a major production for the Sussex County Arts Council competition in May.

Honor Society

The National Honor Society is an organization which helps promote scholarship, leadership, character, and service.The Honor Society was established at IR in 1969. This year the members created a new program in which outstanding students are chosen in every department each quarter. During the Christmas Holidays the members went carolling to shut-ins. Also, for the holidays members delivered food baskets for needy families. At the end of the school year the Honor Society held its most important activity. This was the Installation Ceremony for new members. The Honor Society plays a vital part in our school life and in upholding high academic standards.

Row 3: Sandy Smith, John Little, David Harvey, Paul Huovineh.

Science Club

IRHS Science Club started again in 1982-83. The primary purpose of the Science Club was to form a competative team for the Delaware Science Olympics and to expose as many students as possible to science-related exhibits, facilities, and museums. In that first year, the Olympics team brough back three medals: a first, a second, and a third place. In 1983-84, the team won a total of thirteen medals and, at the time of this writing, the 1984-85 team expects to come away with twenty medals in the spring competition. The Science Club also is associated with this year's "trip a month" tours. Beginning in December, van tours of Washington, Baltimore, and Philadelphia areas that have science-related facilities were offered to students, parents, and teachers.

Student Liason

Student Liason functions as an advisory group to the Principal. The organization is comprised of Class officers, Student Council officers, and Honor Society officers. The group meets periodically through out the year to deal with issues that are of joint concern to both students and staff.

Mr. Deldeo wears many hats in his various roles as Principal, Student Liason Advisor, student activities consultant, and athletic booster.

French Club

Founded in 1975, the Indian River French Club has been very active over the years. Club members have traveled to the art galleries of Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia as well as visiting local French restaurants. French X-mas caroling, international dinners and visits to area colleges have also been on the agenda. Over 300 Indian River students have increased their awareness of French culture through these activities and have had a good time in the process.

Industrial Arts

"The American Industrial Arts Student Association is called AIASA. AIASA is a national organization for elementary, junior high and senior high school students who are presently enrolled in, or have completed, industrial arts courses. It is designed to develop the leadership and personal abilities of students as they relate to the industrial-technical world. AIASA promotes industrial arts in school, community, state and nation. Members help make industrial arts an important factor in the educational system. AIASA also increases knowledge and broadens understanding in the industrial-technical society There are often special sessions in which members are presented with new technical advancements. AIASA's main purpose, however, is to underscore the importance of industrial arts to society."

PRIDE

"What is Pride? Pride is a fe ing all athletes experience. It i feeling of improvement after long hard practice, a feeling of getherness and friendship wh you play as a team, a feeling of su cess when you make a great pla and a feeling of accomplishme when you win. Pride is also bei able to hold up your head in d feat. Every athlete at IR can say

"The new eligibility rule dampened our prospects for the season. Many of our strong players were not able to play or had to quit because of this rule. In the beginning of the year, we had high hopes and big dreams but, as the year progressed, our plans did not materialize as we had hoped. I give a lot of credit to the guys who stuck it out and hung together through the season. I especially commend the Seniors who, although they didn't go out in a blaze of glory, learned the values of teamwork, loyalty and hard work."

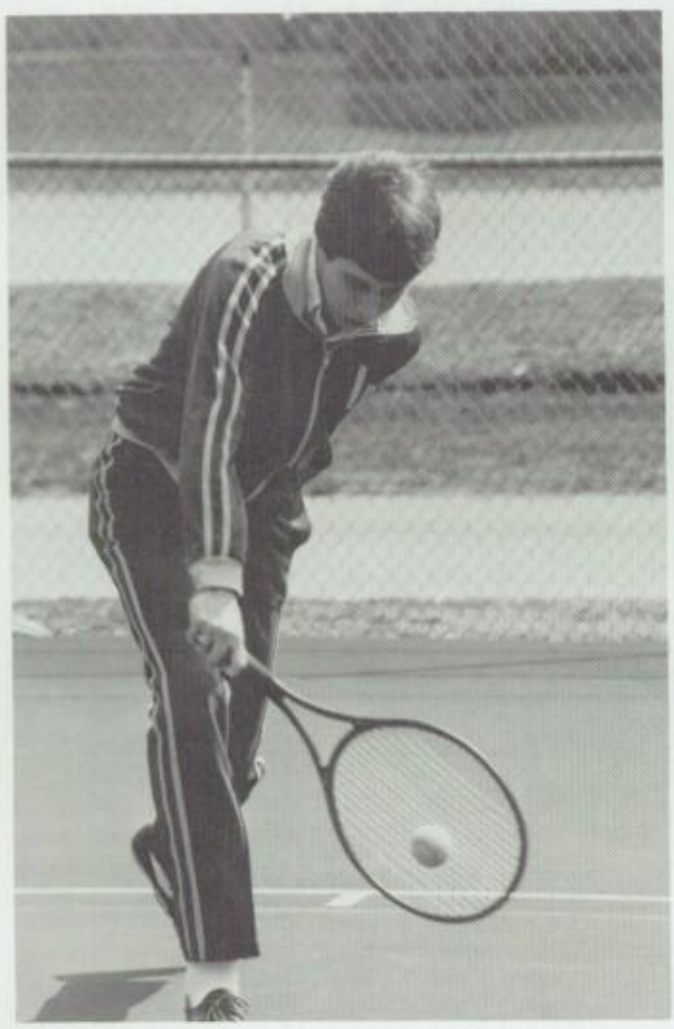
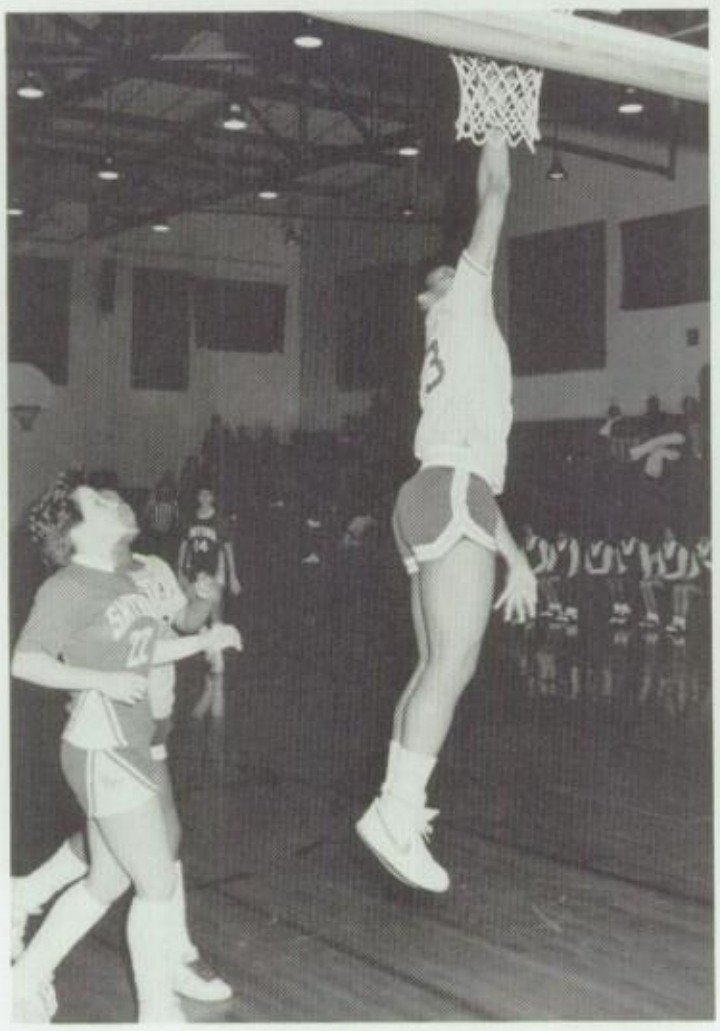
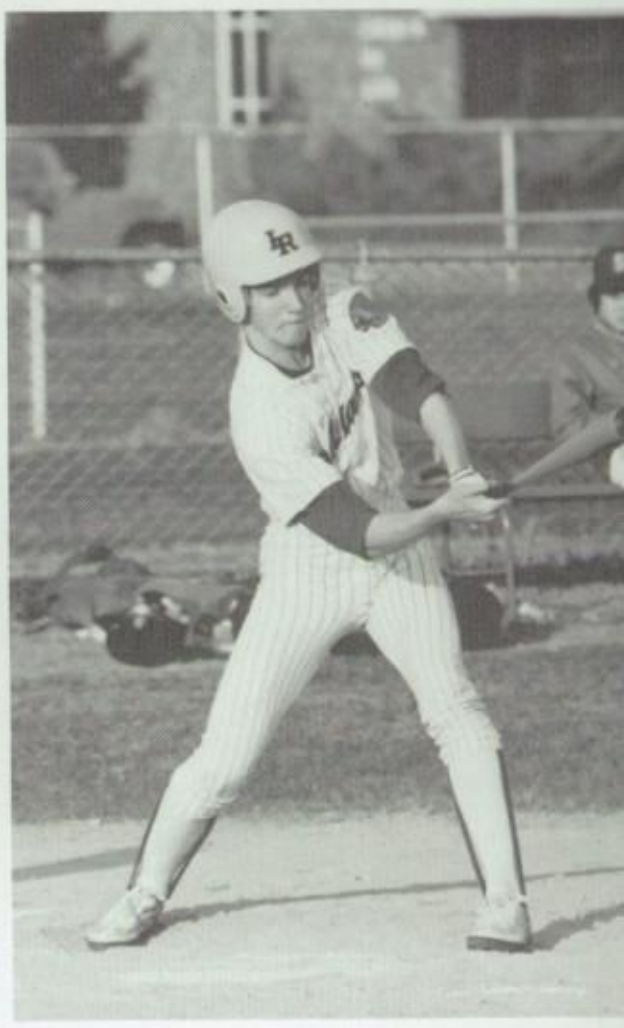
NEW ATHLETIC REQUIREMENTS

Approved by the State Board of Education were the following rules effective for the 1984-85 school year: In order to be eligible for participation in interscholastic competition, each contestant must pursue a regular course or its equivalent as approved by the Department of Public Instruction, and must be passing at least four credits. Two of these credits must be in the areas of English, Mathematics, Science, or Social Studies. To be eligible for participation, any contestant in the 12th grade must be passing all courses necessary for graduation. A student whose work in any regular marking period does not meet the above standards shall be ineligible to participate in interscholastic athletics for the next marking period. When a student makes up a failure during the summer or earns the required credit or credits, he or she shall become eligible. Local school boards may establish requirements over and above these minimums prescribed for eligibility.







Looking Back On The

Some of the best times in high school are spent in sports. These times are shown by Gena Smith in her cheerleading uniform, Don Wingate trying his hand at tennis, and Nina Savage making a jump shot for the Indians.

Girls' Basketball

"This year has been a "rebuilding" year for the Indian River girls. Starting the season with only one player with any real game experience, we suffered numerous defeats. However, winning is not the only thing in our games. We work hard to improve basic skills and are proud of our intersquad accomplishments."

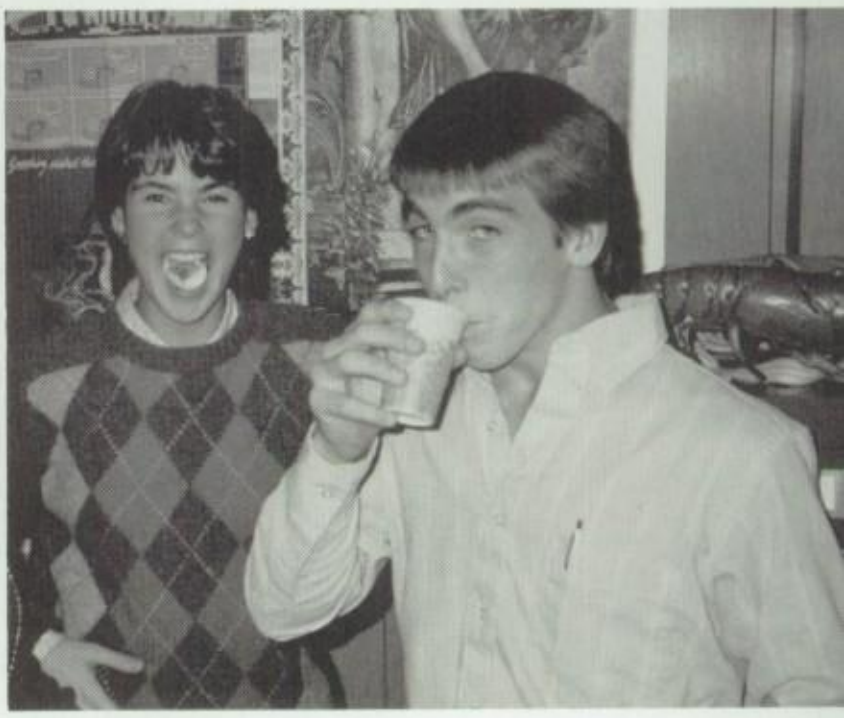
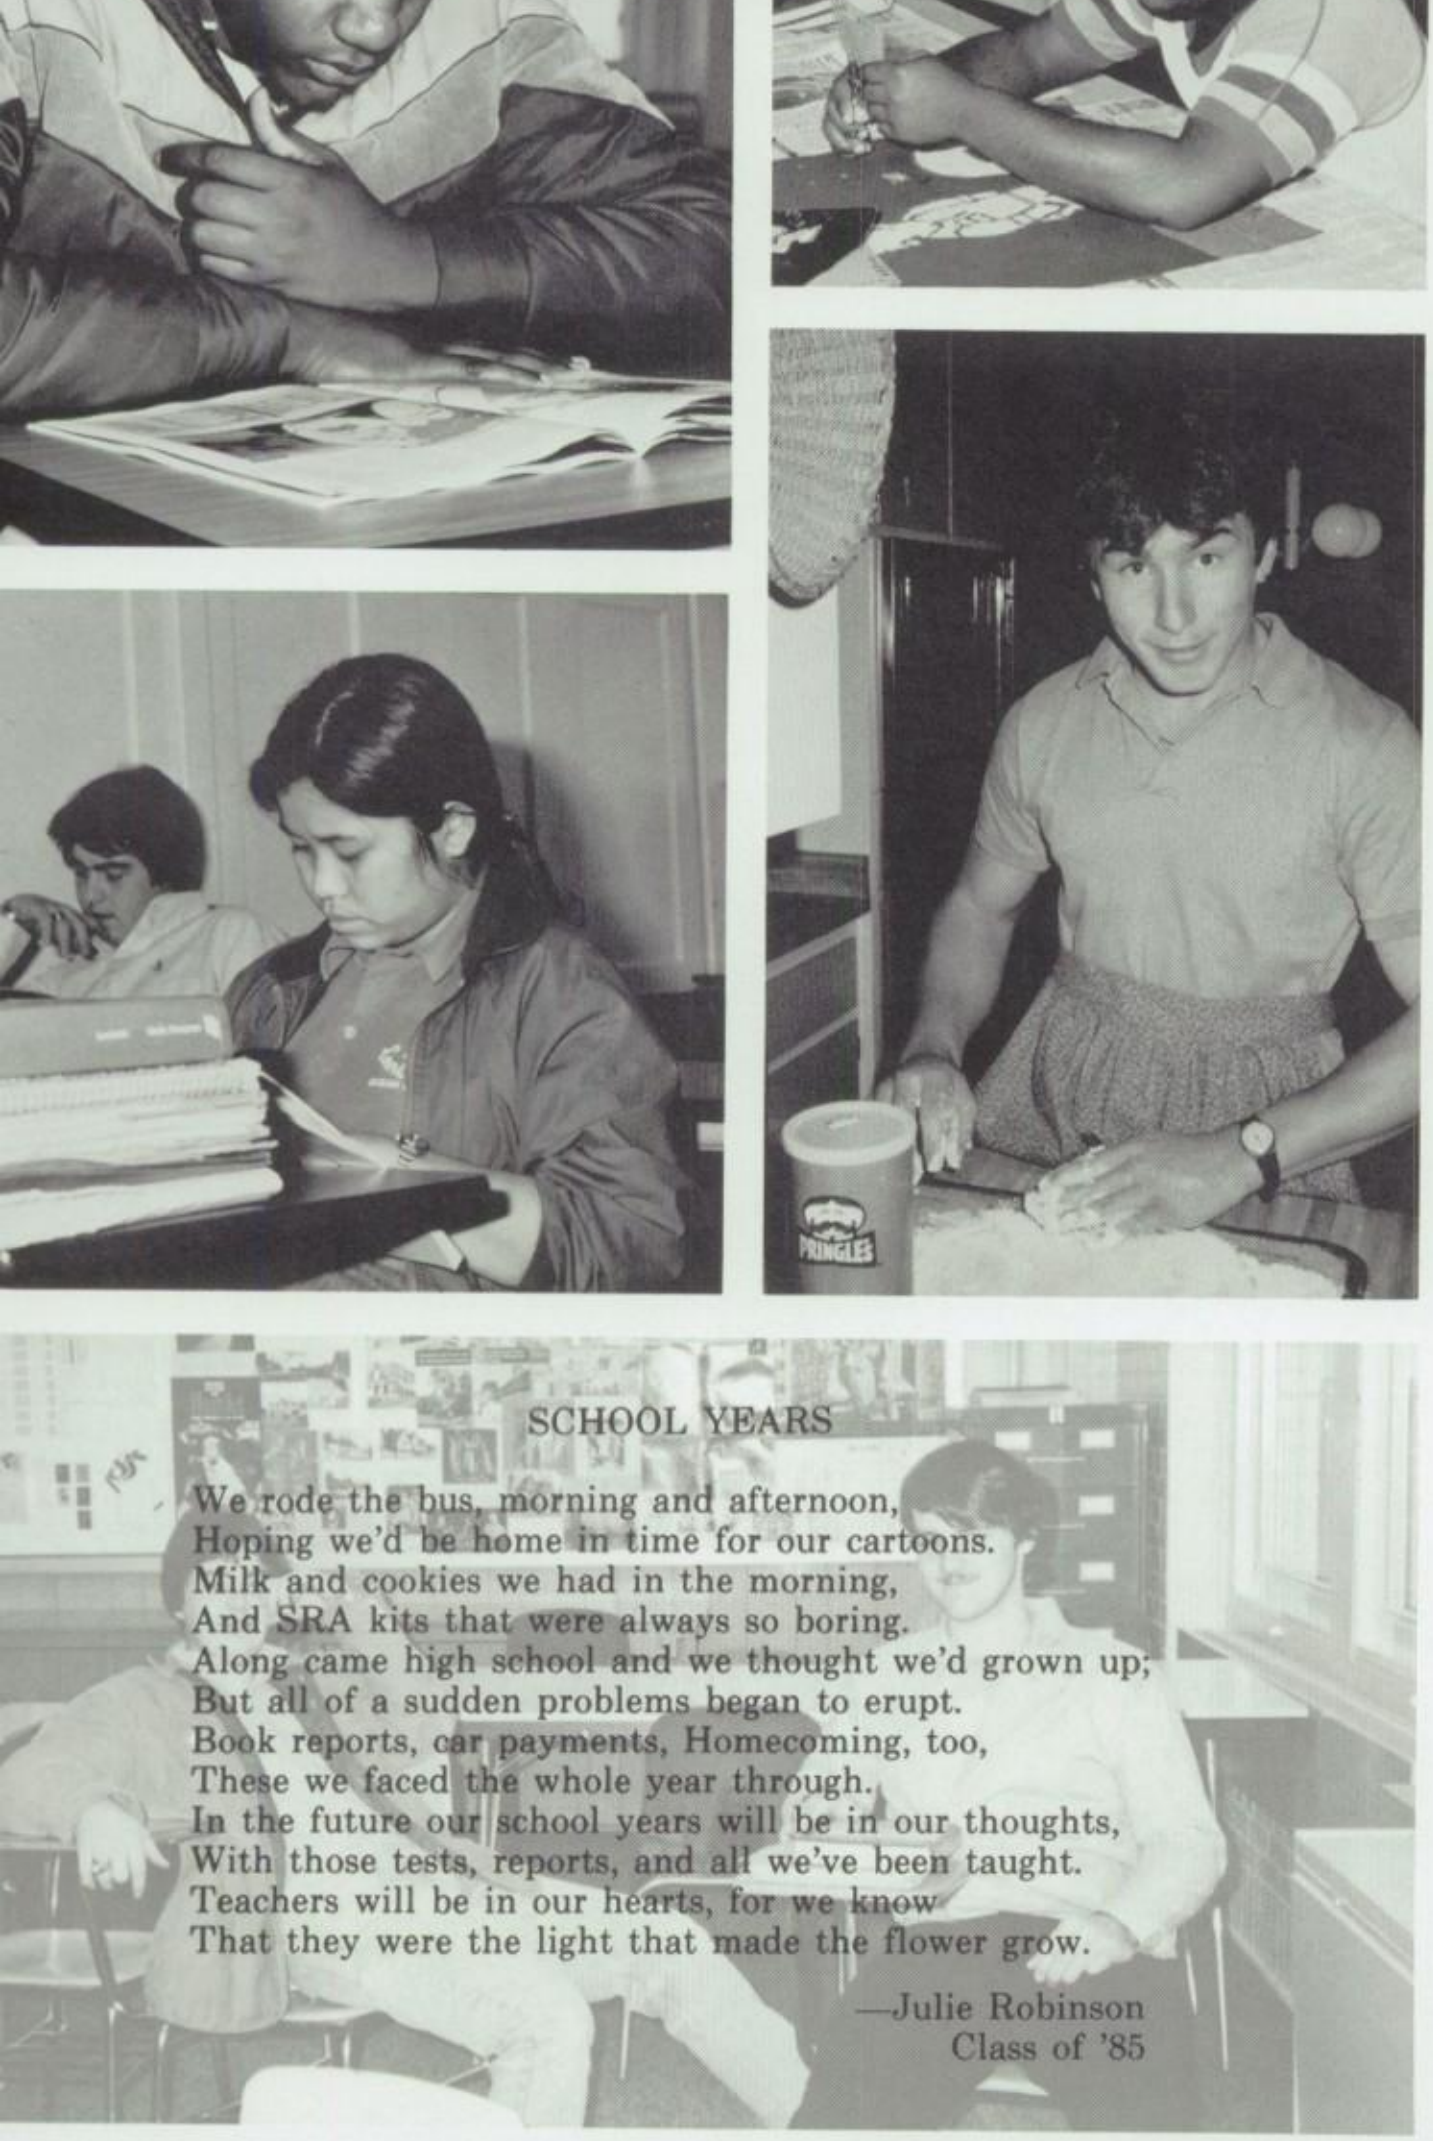
THE LOVE AMONG FRIENDS

The love we share is among us friends;
No matter what messages we send.
Our love is special, all in all,
And together we each have had a ball.
Lord knows, there've been times, both happy and sad
When life has contained some good and some bad.
One of these day we will all go away;
But we'll continue to write day by day.
If a birthday or a wedding we cannot attend,
Then a card we will be sure to send,
To let it be known to one and all
That the love among friends
We will always recall.

—Terry Green
Class of '85





SCHOOL YEARS

We rode the bus, morning and afternoon,
Hoping we'd be home in time for our cartoons.
Milk and cookies we had in the morning,
And SRA kits that were always so boring.
Along came high school and we thought we'd grown up;
But all of a sudden problems began to erupt.
Book reports, car payments, Homecoming, too,
These we faced the whole year through.
In the future our school years will be in our thoughts,
With those tests, reports, and all we've been taught.
Teachers will be in our hearts, for we know
That they were the light that made the flower grow.

—Julie Robinson

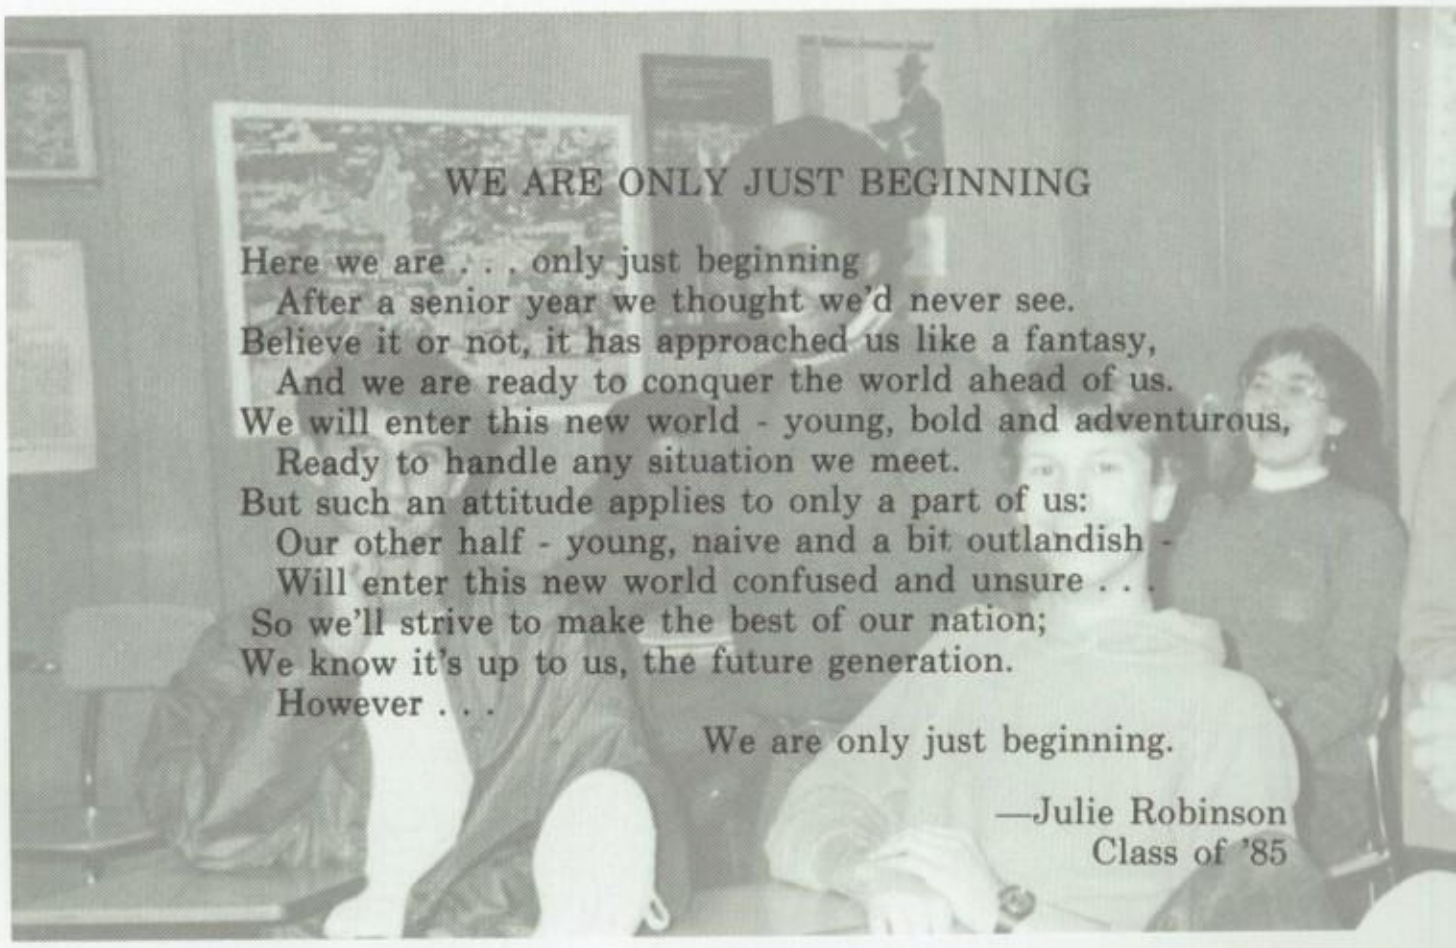
Seniors



WE ARE ONLY JUST BEGINNING

Here we are . . . only just beginning
After a senior year we thought we'd never see.
Believe it or not, it has approached us like a fantasy,
And we are ready to conquer the world ahead of us.
We will enter this new world - young, bold and adventurous,
Ready to handle any situation we meet.
But such an attitude applies to only a part of us:
Our other half - young, naive and a bit outlandish -
Will enter this new world confused and unsure . . .
So we'll strive to make the best of our nation;
We know it's up to us, the future generation.
However . . .

We are only just beginning.

Senior Superlatives

Most Studious: Audra Cordrey and Scott Garrett.

Mr. and Mrs. Vo-Tech: Sylvia Smith and Allen Dutton.

Most Friendly: Emily Tull and Leroy Daisey.

Best Personality: Lisa Murray and Brad Quillen.

Senior Superlatives has traditionally been a well-known and popular section of the yearbook. Throughout the years, the catagories have grown and changed until this year the section totals five pages in the yearbook. Each Fall members of the Senior Class are polled to determine which members of their Class best exemplify certain traits or qualities. Male and female students receiving the highest number of votes are then honored in this special section of the book. Congratulations to the 1985 Senior Superlatives. For them these years have certainly been, "The Best of Times."

Senior Superlatives

Most Talented: Zelda Maddox and Frank Jaworski.

Most Likely to Succeed: Sonja Frey and Steve Persolio.

Best All-Around: Lori Bennett and Craig Mears.

Senior Superlatives

Class Flirts: Lou Ann Hudson and Todd Smallwood.

Most Spirited: Jeannette Ryals and Freddie Winward.

Senior Superlatives

Class Couple: Lisa Foskey and Steve Toomey.

For our Senior Superlatives as well as for all members of the Class of 1985, the years at IR have, indeed, been The Best of Times. To be given the honor of being named, Senior Superlatives, these "stars" have excelled in some aspect of school life, at least in the minds of their classmates. This reputation has been built over a number of years but has culminated in being so honored in the Senior year. The clock has almost run down for these Seniors and their classmates and, in a short time, a new day will be dawning and new opportunities will present themselves. May all members of this year's Senior Class discover that "The Best of Times" is yet ahead, and that they all have within themselves the potential to become superlatives.

Memories of these "best of times" are many and varied for those of us who have completed our senior year. The pensive pose of Frances West reflects the serious and thoughtful moments when we reminisced about a special event or pondered our plans for the future. Our lighter moments are reflected in the antics of senior "cut-ups" Lisa Murray, Todd Smallwood, Lee Mumford, Freddie Winward, Lori Bennett, David Harvey and Paul Huovinen.

Students and staff all working toward the same goals. When this happens, we do have "the best of times"! Whether it's a counselling session about plans for the future, a moment of shared laughter in class, the ever-reliable custodial attention to our environment, a smile and a pleasant voice on the telephone, or a much-needed "cat-nap" at a pep rally, we do share common feelings. We all feel better after a friendly hug or chat, an occasional quiet moment, time to relax, or getting caught up on work. It's a special feeling, being part of a school community where everyone knows everyone else and we all care!

Superintendent: Dr. Primo Toccafondi.
Assistant Superintendent: Dr. Charles Hudson.

Directors: Robert M. Hylbert, W. Graham Dill, III., Jack Hallman. Missing: Phillip W. Slacum.

The Chieftain is more than printed pages, clever sayings, and photographs. It is, in a very real sense, a record of memories - your memories - the memories you hold both individually and in common as students of Indian River High School. It is my sincere hope that those memories are pleasant ones, ones which you will cherish throughout your lives. You have received an education that will serve you well throughout your lives, and the memories within these pages will serve you in those quiet moments when you turn your thoughts to your days spent at Indian River.

Sincerely,

Carmen J. Deldeo, Jr.
Principal

To the graduating Class of 1985, we have crossed paths with one another for this one brief moment in time. I sincerely hope that this year has been successful for each one of you.

I wish you continued success in your upcoming efforts as you enter another facet of your life, and I leave you with this message:

A sound body is a first-class thing;
A sound mind is an even better thing;
But the thing that counts for most in the Individual as in the nation, is character,
The sum of those qualities which make a
Man a good man and a woman a good woman.
- - - Theodore Roosevelt

Secretaries

Mrs. Mary Ann Cordrey
Mrs. Rae Long
Mrs. Kathleen Steen

The offices at IR are always a beehive of activity, and our loyal and competent secretaries are the folks who stand between us and total chaos! Mrs. Long has proved herself quite capable of typing and answering the phone at the same time. Mrs. Cordrey has overlaid the hectic atmosphere with her own air of quiet efficiency. Mrs. Steen keeps the guidance department in business. Even teachers get into the act, as Mr. Szajewski and Mrs. Crews attempt to administer first-aid to the copy machine.

Custodians: Steve Hall, Head Custodian George Beckett, William Andrews, Bill Hall, Hurley Littleton.

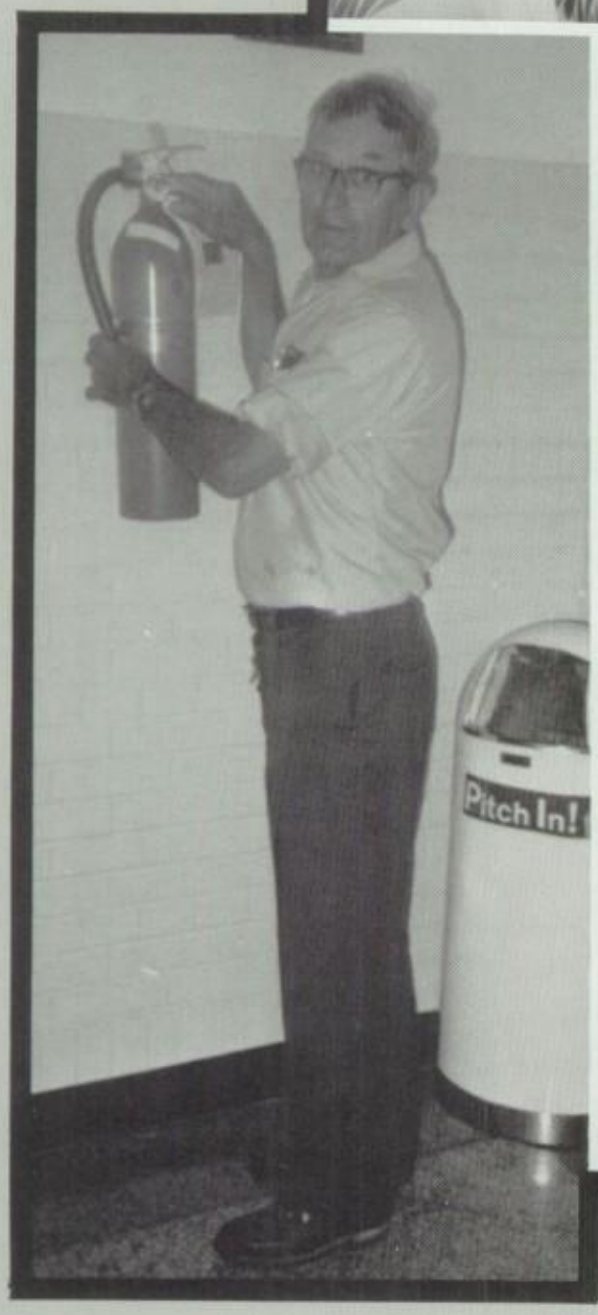
Matthew Spence, former student and star athlete, returns to IR as a welcome member of our custodial staff.

Cafeteria Workers: Row 1: Genevieve Penuel, Minerva Banks, Alice DeMott; Row 2: Connie Marvel, Mary Lynch, Joyce Murray, Manager Jean Crevison.

Mary Lynch, our new lady in the kitchen, stirs up a storm!

We Sure Do Miss Ya!

The Best Of Folks



Hurley S. Littleton began working at Indian River High School in September, 1967, and was made Fireman January 1, 1982. He retired during this school year after eighteen years of loyal and dedicated service. He worked nine years before he was absent due to illness. In addition to his loyalty and dedication, Hurley has contributed daily to the happiness of ALL school personnel. His smiles, laughter and expressions will be missed by everyone. Thank you, Hurley, for the hard work and for adding sunshine to our days. We will not forget, "I feel better all over than anywhere else!"

Elinore Scott came to Indian River as secretary first to Mr. Elmer Knowles and then as secretary to Mr. Everett Toomey. During her last year at IR she served as secretary to Ms. Margaret Peck. Mrs. Scott will be remembered by many for her willingness to help with anything from book orders to graduation line-up. The fresh flowers on her desk have brightened many of our days.

Dear Students of Indian River,

Thank you for sharing part of your life with me. During my four-year tenure at IR, I was afforded the opportunity to meet many of you. For some students our meeting was directly related to my role as Assistant Principal, dealing with rules, regulations and policies. For others it was through their involvement in Student Council, class offices, journalism, yearbook, athletics, and numerous other activities. My aim as an educator was to assist young men and women establish their goals and, in so doing, I attempted to apply principles of both fairness and consistency. I was always impressed with the capabilities of Indian River students, many of whom have brought positive recognition to themselves, their families and their school. My wish for each student has always been that he or she nurtures and develops his/her abilities to the fullest extent. More than that, I have every confidence that IR students will continue their development as fine young men and women. Best wishes in all the years ahead. May they be happy and fulfilling ones for you. And again, thanks for sharing a part of your life with me.

Sincerely,

Margaret E. Peck

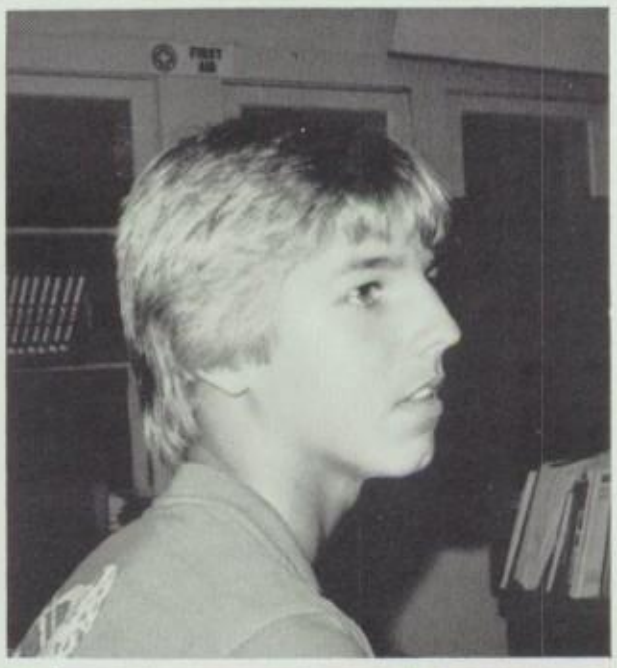
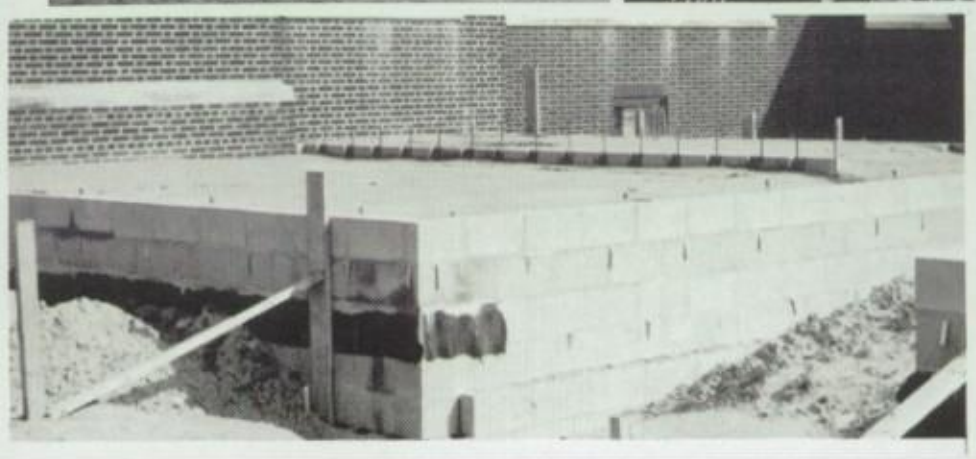
Building A Firm Foundation

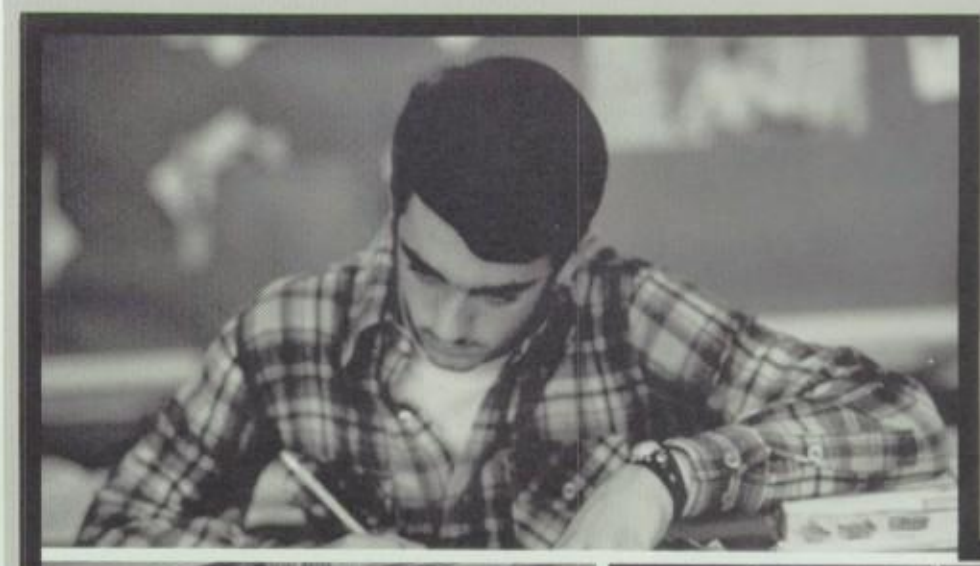
To insure "The Best of Times," we have always been aware of how necessary it is to build upon a firm foundation. Nationally, we have been reminded that even such symbolic foundations of our freedom as The Statue of Liberty cannot be taken for granted. This grand lady began to show her age, as she celebrated her 98th birthday in 1984. The statue was worn from constant exposure to wind, salt air and acid rain, and the iron ribbing supporting the copper covering was badly corroded. A two-year restoration project has begun with the support of millions of Americans who feel the need to preserve their heritage. On a smaller scale, some much-needed attention has been given to making improvements to the Indian River High School facility. When construction is completed in time for the 1985-86 school year, students and staff will enjoy the advantages of a new library and music wing, as well as an expanded physical education facility.

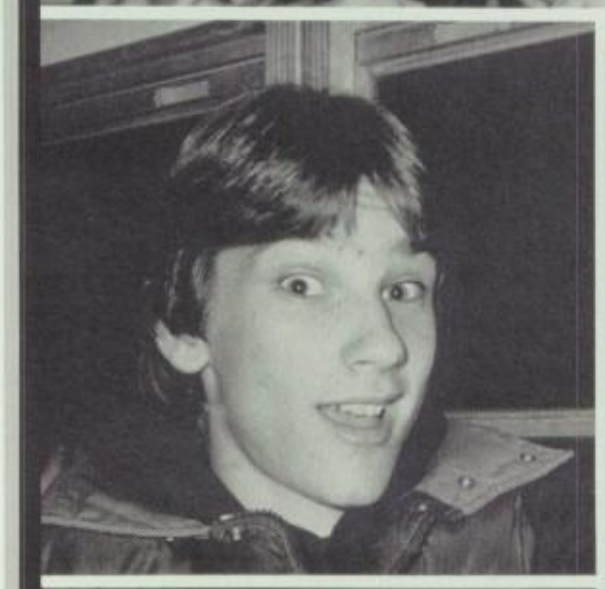
For members of the Class of 1987, their first year at IR has been truly a year for building firm foundations. This class began with a bang, as they announced early in the year that they could be the "best," with a winning Homecoming float. It is evident from the expressions on their faces that Anthony Merrill and friends are enjoying the firm foundation of "wheels" beneath their feet! In a more serious moment of reflection, Chuck White appears to be contemplating the burdens and responsibilities that sophomores encounter as they enter high school. On the other hand, Tanya Mitchell seems just tickled to be a sophomore! The satisfaction of seeing a job well-done belongs to Kim Long and Michelle Morris as they put the finishing touches on the winning float. No matter what the mood of the moment, however, we are reminded that without a sturdy foundation, built with the finest materials, the structure cannot endure.





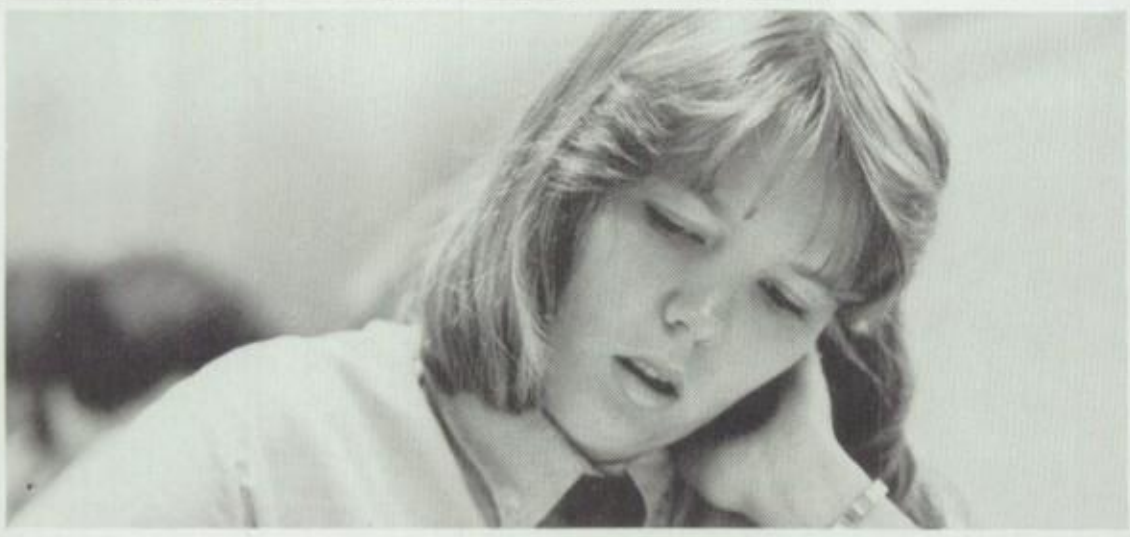
To be "the best that we can be" is a goal worth striving for. Nationally, this motto was never more in evidence than in the extra-ordinary effort put forth by young atheletes in the 1984 Summer Olympics. America's sports' elite won 83 gold medals, 61 silver and 30 bronze. Track and field stand-out Carl Lewis won four gold medals — the 100 meters, the 200 meters, the 400 meter relay and the long jump. Mary Lou Retton won the all-around gold medal and led the gymnastic team to a silver medal; she also won bronze medals for the floor exercise and the uneven parallel bars and took a silver medal for the vault. Especially heart-warming to freedom-lovers everywhere was the refusal of Soviet-bloc country Rumania to go along with the Soviet boycott of the Summer Olympics.





This year's Junior Class has had among its members many who have striven for and attained excellence. Goals and talent tend to merge in the Junior year and, for many high school students, this particular year represents "the best of times." School work takes on new significance as sophomore insecurities are shed and long-term goals start to materialize. Keith McCabe seems afflicted with a serious case of "studentitis," as seen in the intense concentration he exhibits. John Sadowski seems not in the least bit fazed by the news that he has been selected as a member of the All-State Band, along with Brian Baull. Junior Chris Megee strives for just the right effect as he puts the finishing touches on the Homecoming float. That winning Junior spirit can be seen as Celeste Mclaughlin flashes a smile from her seat on the away-game bus. No matter what the time or place, this year's Junior Class has made great strides in becoming "the Best that we can be."

The Best That We Can Be



The Best Of Times

"A Positive State Of Mind"

This year's yearbook theme, "The Best of Times," can mean many things to many people. From the perspective of the District and Indian River High School in particular, the theme highlights improvements in the school building and school programs through construction and the addition of instructional materials and equipment. For each of us as individuals, the theme enables us to reflect on our accomplishments and permits us to point to contributions that make life around us a little better than it was before.

To the graduating class of 1985, I would like to suggest the theme "The Best of Times" be adopted as your collective and individual goal for the future. Any of us can be overwhelmed by the problems and temporary setbacks that we encounter. Your challange will be to look beyond these momentary concerns and continually strive to pursue your personal and vocational aspirations. "The Best of Times" is simply a positive state of mind and maintaining that positive state of mind is the key to success and future happiness.

Finally, permit me to congratulate everyone associated with Indian River High School for a very successful school year. As a newcomer to the district this year, I continually have been impressed by the contribution to the school by parents and the community as well as the accomplishments of the students and staff. Anytime a school such as Indian River High School becomes a community school, that certainly is "The Best of Times."

The Best Time Of Our Lives

Memories

We've been together since we were
So small,
And shared many experiences
So great;
The time has come for us to hear
Our call,
It's only but a small part of Our fate.

Soon we'll be grown with futures of
Our own,
With new friends and mem'ries that We'll find;
'Though we'll always have the friends
We've known,
Some of our close ties we'll leave Behind.

Although we will go our separate
Ways,
The great distance won't keep us
Apart;
For we'll always recall the "good Old days,"
And from us those dear mem'ries will
Not part.

So to all my friends, what e'er you do,
Strive for the best, and may your dreams
Come true.

Betsy Long

A Tribute To Brad

Every once in a while someone comes along who touches our lives in a special way. Those of us who have known and worked with Brad Quillen over the past three years are aware that Brad is a young man who has that ability to make us strive harder and set our goals higher. Like the best of leaders, he teaches by example. One lesson he has taught all of us is that it is possible to view life's difficulties, not as problems, but as challenges. Because of his determination to overcome his hearing impairment and his desire to be treated as "just one of the kids," none of us has ever thought of Brad as handicapped. The opposite, in fact, has been true. He has become a Senior Superlative in the true sense of the term, in that he personifies the sense of pride and excellence which too few of us strive for, much less ever attain. No where have his accomplishments been more evident than in his work on the yearbook. For two years Brad has been one of the staff's most valued members. His willingness to spend as much as three or four hours a day working on an assignment, his total attention to detail, his insistence on perfection, and his complete dependability in a crisis and from day to day, are qualities that will stand him in good stead as he now prepares to face the greatest challenge of his life.

Brad, we wish you well. Know that you are not alone in your fight. Our love and prayers, the support of your family, and your own determination and courage, will combine to insure that for you life will be more worthwhile than ever.
